News from Rev Sara Roberts

Media attention may have moved on from the tragedies on the shores of the Mediterranean that filled our screens last summer, but the reality for those who risk their lives crossing the seas has not changed. Across Greece, Italy, France, Syria, Turkey and Lebanon, men, women and children still desperately search for sanctuary, and stability in a cruel and harsh world that only sees them as a 'political football'.

Vulnerable people fleeing from Syria, Afghanistan, Eritrea, Iraq, South Sudan, Somalia, that cannot protect its citizens from war, violence, persecution and terror, end up in camps where their basic human needs are barely catered for. Major Government Organisations are notable by their absence or lack of effectiveness, with only local volunteers and grass roots organisations struggling daily to provide food, water, clothing, dignity and humanity to these people who have lost everything, believing that Europe would shelter them in their time of need. 65.6million people have fled their homes by the end of 2016, and it is not slowing down. Half of those forced to flee are children. Two thirds of refugees are residing in poorer countries, who are struggling to respond to the humanitarian needs.

CEFN based in Blaenau Ffestiniog is still collecting clothing, hygiene items, medical equipment. In the past month they have contributed to two containers of aid going out to Chios and Syria, and two more will be sent during August. We are already planning our winter campaign as we know from personal experience in France that winter in a camp is incredibly harsh.

We are now collecting shoes and school uniforms - it takes 6 weeks to get to the children in Europe.

! PACKATHON IN PORTHMADOG !

You can get involved with CEFN's work by subscribing to our newsletter, on our website www.cefn.cymru or on our Facebook page: CEFN Cefnogi Ffoaduriaid/Supporting Refugees. New volunteers are always warmly welcomed

If you want to help RIGHT NOW, then there is a 24 hour marathon packing session sorting and bagging clothes & toiletries on Wednesday 3rd August from 10 am in Porthmadog at the Church of Seventh Day Adventists, which is near Huws Gray and the new Travelodge, just before you get to Aldi going into Porthmadog.

If you have donations contact Sara: 07967652981 to arrange collection/drop off.

More from Rev Sara

I would like to express my thanks & gratitude for all the support shown to me while I've been on placement in Bro Enlli, and especially for my ordination on Sat 24th June. It meant a lot to me to see so many from Bro Enlli there, your cards & gifts were so kind and generous.

I'm now looking forward to being a curate with you all. Sara

Ministry to Children & Young People

Bro Enlli is reviewing its ministry to children & young people. We have had positive growth with the new Friday After-School club in Llannor; Saturday Messy Church in Llanbedrog; and the successful events in Aberdaron at Easter and Christmas. We now need to build on this and see how else we can bring the Gospel and some fun to our younger members and the wider community. If you would like to be involved, please consider joining in a conversation in the first week of September where we can explore this over a panad!

No experience necessary, just a willingness to get involved and an enthusiasm for young people. Date TBC, but possibly Tues 5th Sept.

Contact Sara or Naomi to discuss time/dates

Calais Refugee Kitchen - Salad & Socks!

I am returning to volunteer in the Refugee Community Kitchen in Calais and will donate any funds raised by this campaign to support RCK and the warehouse:

Supplies are desperately low in the kitchens and the warehouse so the volunteers are struggling to meet the needs of the refugees around Calais and Dunkirk. Many of those are unaccompanied children, dependent on volunteers for food, water and basics for life.

The money I raise will help buy socks and salad, and other essentials, making a difference to people who have nothing. Please give what you can www.gofundme.com/socks-salad-for-calais

Thank you, Give what you can! Diolch, Rhannwch a rhoddwch beth gallwch ! Sara
